Native American Life Before Myles Standish

Sunday December 27th: 1:00pm – 2:30pm

What was life like here in Massachusetts before 1620 and the arrival of the Pilgrims to Plymouth? How did Native Americans in this region live? These are important but, unfortunately too often unasked questions. This program will explore the lives, culture and practices of local Wampanoag people and other local Algonquin tribes. We will discuss what was life was like here prior to the arrival of Europeans and how things dramatically changed after their arrival. Suitable for guests 12 and up, this program seeks to fairly and respectfully examine this complex history from as many sides as possible.

Meet at Parking Lot 2 on Upper College Pond Road.
Free and open to the public!

Rain, snow, or icy trails cancels.
